DEATH TOLL TEN; INJURED SIXTY

DEATH CLAIMS JOHN BURROUGHS WORLD FAMOUS NATURALIST

Made a Lifetime Study of Horticulture, Birds, Flowers and the Common Wild Animals of the Temperate Zone—He Was Also Known as a Philosopher

RECENTLY UNDERWENT A SEVERE OPERATION

Burroughs' Literary Efforts and Nature Studies Extended
Over a Period of More Than Sixty Years—Had Honorary Degrees Conferred on Him

(By International News Service)

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 29.—John Burroughs, world-famous naturalist, died on a train near here today while enroute from California to his home at West Park, New York.

Death occurred in a pullman compartment at 2 a. m., when the New York Central train No. 16, known as the New York-New England Express, was passing through Kingsville, Ohio.

John Burroughs was born at Roxbury, New York, April 3, 1837, received an academic education and after teaching school for eight years and serving as a treasury clerk and national bank examiner for the ten years following, then turned to his natural bent, the study of horticulture, birds, flowers and the common wild animals of the temperate zone.

He is known as the author of a dozen or more nature study books, familiar to all school children.

He was a great friend of the late President Roosevelt and one of Burroughs' books deals with "Tramping and Camping" with that eminent American.

Burroughs was also known as a philosopher, while his literary style was regarded as that of the first order, its simplicity and clarity being admired by all critics.

Burroughs' literary efforts and nature studies extended over a period of more than 60 years.

He was given an honorary degree of doctor of literature by Yale University in 1910 and a degree of doctor of humane letters by Colgate University in 1911.

Burroughs, who had spent the winter in California, had been in feeble health for some time. Had he lived until April 3, he would have been 84 years of age. He was the most famous naturalist ever produced by America and his nature studies along many lines have been accepted as authoritative.

Burroughs was accompanied on the long journey eastward by his granddaughter and a physician. When the naturalist left Pasadena he was so ill he had to be carried aboard the train. It was recalled that only last year when Burroughs had his annual outing with Henry Ford and Thomas A. Edison, he enjoyed himself by chopping down a tree, much to the amazement of his younger pals.

ROXBURY, N. Y., March 29.—News of the sudden death of John Burroughs, naturalist, aboard a New York Central train today was received at his summer home here as a distinct shock to all. The first news came in a telephone call from the International News Service. It was explained by the caretaker of his home that Burroughs recently had undergone a severe operation for an abscess on the chest and this ordeal, it was feared, had overstrained his heart.

The naturalist has one son, Julian Burroughs, to survive him. It is expected that the burial will take place here.

HUNDREDS OF MINES CLOSED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., March 29.—One hundred thousand coal miners throughout the United States are idle and hundreds of mines are closed, particularly in the Indiana district, according to a statement made today by Ellis Searles, editor of the United Mine Workers' Journal.

A coal shortage is due for the coming winter unless coal buying is resumed on a large scale, Searles predicted. He ascribed the present idleness in all coal fields to market apathy. Production, Searles said, is at the lowest point since 1914.

AUTO OVERTURNED; OCCUPANTS HURT

L. C. Parmelee of San Fernando road, Los Angeles, was driving south on San Fernando road yesterday and at the Los Feliz crossing his car was hit by that of Malcolm St. Clair of Pasadena and overturned. Both Mr. Parmelee and his wife who was with him in the car, were injured, but not seriously enough to need hospital treatment.

"He is a good man but—" is the poison gas that has destroyed the influence of many a worthy person.

Yellow Luncheon for Chamber of Commerce Directorate

High School Girls Prepare and Serve Delicious Repast for Official Board at Its Executive Session—Table
Centered With California Poppies

Smiles of satisfaction and of anticipation illuminated the countenances of early comers at the Chamber of Commerce directorate luncheon served today at noon in the bungalow of the domestic science department of Glendale high school under the direction of Miss Hanson, head of the department. It was a delicious dinner which lived up to the savory odors which heralded it and the girls who had it in charge as cooks and caterers were Lois Schuyler and Elaine Francis, assisted by other members of the class, the assisting waitresses being Marguerite McGuire, Edith Schuyler and Dorothy Danner. Their menu included Swedish meat balls and escalloped potatoes, hot biscuits and orange marmalade, carrot and peanut salad, individual lemon pies and coffee, all prepared by the department.

The table was centered with a great glowing bowl of California poppies and any housewife who can visualize the scene knows it was a yellow luncheon, from salad to the delicately browned delicious dessert. Over the biscuits there was a riot and late comers had to go without.

The first business of the hour was the reading of minutes of the last forum. It was followed by discussion of how frequently forums should be held. It resulted in instruction to Chairman Cooper to appoint a new speakers' committee, and a vote to cancel the noonday forums during the summer. Mr. Huntley's committee was instructed to cancel all arrangements for the Thursday noon meeting this week, said forum to be held the Thursday following at noon, in the Masonic Temple.

Secretary Rhoades was empowered to place insurance on the office equipment owned by the chamber.

Five applications for full active membership were received, including the applications of E. E. Ford and Mrs. Ella Richardson, were presented and approved.

The report of Robert Plume, chairman of committee to which the project of a shelter for passengers waiting to board the Pacific Electric cars at the junction of the Glendale and Burbank lines, was referred to W. E. Hewitt with instructions to secure a petition signed by his employees and

TERRIFIC BLAST WRECKS BIG PAPER WAREHOUSE

Fire Follows the Explosion and Firemen and Police Are at Work Searching the Ruins for Additional Bodies of Victims

CHICAGO, March 29.—Six bodies, terribly mangled, have been recovered and many persons were injured in a terrific blast of unknown origin which wrecked a four-story paper warehouse on the southwest side shortly before 11 a. m., today.

Fire followed the explosion and firemen and police were at work searching the smoking ruins for possible additional victims of the explosion.

At 11:30 a. m., Coroner Peter M. Hoffman issued a statement in which he said the death toll would probably reach 10 and the injured probably about 60. His estimate was based on a partial, unofficial check of those working in the place and those known to have been in the vicinity at the time.

A special detail was investigating the report that a leaky gas main was responsible for the explosion. A woman in the vicinity told the police she had telephoned the gas company previous to the blast to complain of a smell of gas in the neighborhood.

Windows within a radius of many blocks were shattered by the terrific concussions and men and women employees rushed from nearby streets and houses in panic.

Identification of the bodies taken from the debris has been impossible because of their mutilated condition. The body of a small girl, about three years old, was the last body taken from the ruins, about 11:45 a. m.

The other dead were three unidentified men, all about 30, two with the heads blown off and the other badly mangled.

Possibility that the explosion may have been caused by a bomb attack in a war between junk dealers and their employees was seen in a statement made by Samuel Helman, proprietor of a paint shop near the warehouse. He said that just before the explosion a man came into his shop and asked how he could reach the warehouse. Helman said the man seemed greatly excited.

Another report said that a piece of paper with the word "torpedo" on it had been picked up in the ruins.

GIVE OLD-TIME TAFFY PULL

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Robinson of 212 West Colorado boulevard, entertained informally about 30 of their friends last Thursday night, one of the features of entertainment being an old-fashioned taffy pull. Some beautiful music was rendered by Mrs. Fite who sang, accompanied by her sister with violin and Mr. Fite on trombone.

Professor Head gave funny dramatic reading in Irish dialect, and little Mary Fite and Margaret Alice Head played piano selections, but the fun began with the candy making. Prizes for the best candy makers going to Bert Nicoles and Mr. Fite.

The several rooms were decorated with a profusion of St. Patrick green and spring flowers.

Delicious refreshments were served. The guests were unanimous in declaring that for real fun give them an old-fashioned taffy pulling.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fite and daughter Mary, Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Coleman of Hollywood, Professor and Mrs. Head and daughter of Ocean Park, Miss Ida Townsend of Providence, R. I., Mrs. Niles and daughters Katherine and Ernestine, who are visiting their aunt, Mrs. Morrison.

PREPARE TO ERECT CLUB BUILDINGS

After an intensely interesting discussion 200 of the 500 members of the Tuesday Afternoon Club present at the club luncheon called today for the purpose of considering plans for the building of the proposed new club home voted unanimously to request the executive board to secure information relative to the forming of a stock corporation and also other propositions, and to present the same in concrete form as soon as possible to the club for consideration.

CHARGED WITH BOOTLEGGING

Lawrence Collino of Burbank vicinity, charged with acting as agent for a winery and specifically with selling liquor to two young men of Glendale, was arraigned yesterday afternoon. He asked for a jury trial and the case was set for one day next week.

Thirty years ago Los Angeles had a population of only 50,395, now it supplies nearly that number of movie actors.

"LOOK OUT FOR THE JAPS" SAYS TILDEN

(By International News Service)
NEW YORK, March 29.—"Look out for the Japs!"

Bill Tilden, 2d, world's premier tennis player, uttered this warning recently in discussing the coming Davis Cup ties and the efforts of foreign nations to lift the famous cup.

"It is my firm belief that the Japanese team is the most dangerous one of the field centered in the Davis Cup ties," Tilden continued. "Ichiya Kumagae and Senzo Shimidzu, who will be almost certain to form the backbone of Japan's team, are among the world's best tennis players."

"I have met both players. I played Shimidzu twice, and although I won from him on both occasions I feel that he is constantly becoming a better player. Kumagae is agile, crafty, deep student of the game and a great all-around player. It will not surprise me to see this pair come through to the round before the challenge round and I will be no more surprised to see them compete against the American team next summer for the Davis Cup."

Tilden has been playing tennis for nearly a score of years. He has had to be a deep student of the game to attain the lofty place he holds in the tennis world today and he knows whereof he speaks. Furthermore, being conservative to a marked degree, he would not make such a statement unless convinced he was right.

As the teams are lined up for the first round in the cup ties it is probable that matches will be played as follows:

Spain vs. England, at Wimbledon.

Australia vs. Canada, either in Canada or the United States.

Czecho-Slovakia vs. Belgium, at Brussels or Antwerp.

The winners of the Spanish-English and Canada-Australasia matches will come together in the second round as will be victors in the first round matches between Japan and the Philippines and Czecho-Slovakia. The other second round matches will be played between France and India and Argentina and Denmark. One of the last two teams named will have to cross the Atlantic. As it is impossible to foresee how the first-round matches will result there is not telling how many of the cup ties will be played on this continent or in Europe.

CONGREGATION BACKS UP PASTOR

Between 40 and 50 members of Central Christian church went down to University Christian church, Santa Barbara and Budlong, last night, to back up the pastor, Rev. C. A. Cole in beginning a two weeks' revival meeting. All went in autos.

COMPLIMENTARY MUSICAL PROGRAM HERE NEXT FRIDAY

Glendale Music Club to Give Rare Treat to the People of This City

The Glendale Music Club, recently organized, is presenting to the public at its first open meeting a splendid program of American music, which will be given by visiting artists on Friday of this week, at the high school at 8 o'clock. This is done by the club as a means of letting the public share the pleasure of its first program. In future the programs will be open to members only. In this instance the program will be of exceptional interest because made up entirely of American compositions and four of the composers are residents of Los Angeles, viz., Charles Wakefield Cadman, Helen Livingstone, Harold Webster and Gertrude Ross, the last named appearing in person. Gertrude Ross is known throughout the country as a California composer, and her compositions are constantly on the programs of the greatest artists, many of her songs being in the repertoire of Madame Schumann-Heink, Matzenauer, Louise Homer, Clarence Whitehill, Paul Althouse and others.

Mrs. Ross has accompanied many

Other interesting numbers, to be given Friday night are the prize sonata for violin and piano composed by Harold Webster of Los Angeles and played by Alexander Slavski, who is internationally known as a violin virtuoso of first magnitude. He will be assisted by Mertianna Towler of Minneapolis.

No admission will be charged and seats will be reserved for club members only. It is expected the high school auditorium will be filled with music lovers and citizens of Glendale.

CANADIAN BEAVER SENTENCED TO DIE

(By International News Service)
CALGARY, Alta., March 29.—Justice, it might seem, is in the point of view. Twenty beavers in Brownness park have been sentenced to death by the Calgary city council. The crime for which they must die is eating, as it is their nature to eat, and building homes, according to their instinct. They have eaten bare of herbage several acres of park land and cut down thirty shade trees. A trapper has been engaged to exterminate them.

All the country around Calgary was once a stronghold of the beaver. Their lodges were in every stream. Their pelts were the prairie's earliest source of wealth. The fur brigades of the Hudson Bay company swept unendingly down the Saskatchewan and the Qu'Appelle to Cumberland House and York Factory. Settlers swarmed in and the beaver disappeared. The Hudson Bay company sought other trapping grounds in the northern wilderness and is now closing out to colonists the land that was the beavers' ancient kingdom.

A pair of beaver was planted in Brownness park. As representatives of a dying race they had a curious interest. But under man's protection they became too flourishing for man's convenience and so they were doomed. Thus, he who runs may read the moral—"When fortune smiles, watch your step. Too much prosperity is dangerous."

DRIVE ON THURSDAY FOR WELFARE HOME

The local committee which has undertaken to furnish the kitchen of the Welfare Home at Monte Vista, which is being backed by the council of community service and city and county officials of Los Angeles, had a meeting at the home of Mrs. E. W. Kinney on West Elk street, Monday evening, with Mrs. Ralph Meeker, chairman, presiding. Various organizations have undertaken the furnishing of rooms and many of these have not only raised the necessary funds, but have even purchased the furnishings.

As the kitchen is the heart of such an institution it seems necessary that immediate action should be taken to complete the fund for that already started. As the obligation undertaken on behalf of Glendale will mean the repainting of the walls and woodwork, and equipment with a range, hot water tanks, sinks, a large ice box and other needed articles which are expensive to buy, not less than $400 will be required. Thursday has therefore been named as a day for a drive to raise the fund and insure the success of this home for the benefit of ailing children of the city who need a change of altitude, environment and food and who can get it in no other way. No special sum will be asked for in this drive the gift being left to the discretion of the donor.

Mrs. Meeker has been greatly cheered by the generous action of the Bentley-Schoeneman Lumber Company which laid the floor of the kitchen and then sent her a receipted bill for material and labor. She has letters from Mayor Snyder, D. Joseph Coyne and others, who thoroughly investigated the project and who were instrumental in purchasing the property.

TEACHERS ENJOY EASTER VACATION

Members of the faculty of the Broadway school seem to have thoroughly enjoyed their Easter vacation. Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, the principal, went to San Francisco to visit her daughter, Mrs. Hyde and while there took in the blossom festival at Saratoga in the Santa Clara valley. It was a wonderful sight, she says, and the valley was very beautiful. Easter afternoon she took a 100-mile ride around the valley before taking a train to come south.

Miss Matthews of the Broadway passed her vacation in San Diego. All the rest of the teachers went on a hiking trip to Mount Wilson, the group including Miss Lucille Sparks, Miss Kinyon, Miss Henrietta Holloway and Miss Mary Jenkins.

INTERMEDIATE SCHOOL NEWS

Friday afternoon of this week the intermediate track team is to meet the Pasadena Military Academy's team.

About two weeks hence there will be a decathlon meet of all the grammar schools of the city. It will be under the direction of the athletic instructors of the various schools.

"THE DEVIL TO PAY" STORY OF MYSTERY

"The Devil to Pay," adapted from Francis Nimmo Greene's novel, is a story of mystery and thrills, woven into a plot, weird and unique, is the feature picture at the Glendale theater today.

Can you imagine your state of mind if you had railroaded a man to the gallows for your crime and after he had been hanged and you thought yourself free from exposure, his voice should speak to you over the telephone and haunt you day and night?

Then suppose you were indicted for complicity in the murder and a safe was opened, whose combination could have been known by no one except the man who had been hanged—would you believe in your own sanity?

Lovers of mystery melodrama will enjoy this play at the Glendale theater today. The surprise climax is not even to be guessed at until almost the end of the play, a Robert Brunton production whose all-star cast includes Robert McKim, Fritz Brunette, Roy Stewart, Joseph J. Dowling and George Fisher.

LINEBERGER ON THE JOB AT WASHINGTON

Congressman Lineberger is already at work for his district in Washington. He is to appear before the senate subcommittee considering the chemical tariff to secure a proper protective tariff for by-products of the lemon, i. e., the culls which do not come up to standard for market purposes, but from which citric acid, citrate of lime, lemon oil, etc., can be made. Protection for these by-products would help to solve the problems of growers in Florida, as well as in California.

FRIENDS HAVE OUTING IN SAW PIT CANYON

A group of friends which included Mr. and Mrs. Angelica and son Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. West and two children, and Mrs. West's brother from Chicago, Mr. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones and daughter Nan, Mrs. Jones' mother, Mrs. Batz, and Mr. Jones' father, motored to Saw Pit canyon at Monrovia, where they enjoyed a picnic lunch and a hike to the falls. They were charmed with the beauty of the place but rather nervous because of the many autos on the comparatively narrow road.

ENDEAVOR SERVICE AT TROPICO CHURCH

The Sunday evening Endeavor service at the Tropico Presbyterian church proved to be unusually interesting as an "Echo" meeting. Several of the members who had attended the Whittier convention gave short talks on their various experiences and the wonderful inspirations received there.

The meeting next Sunday, April 3, will be led by Walter Sullivan, the subject being "Thy Kingdom Come—In My Community."

Plans have been made for special music, and everyone is urged to attend and help make it a live, interesting service.

INTERMEDIATES PARADE FOR BONDS

Led by Drum Corps, Singing and Carrying Banners and Slogan Mottoes

Children of the Intermediate school made a brave showing with banners and mottoes Monday afternoon when, led by their drum corps, they marched from Broadway to Colorado on Brand and back to Broadway, where they made a final stand, singing with great spirit a booster song for the park and swimming pool bonds, to the tune of "Over There." Leading and directing the march came Richardson D. White in an automobile. Then came Miss Sinclair's girls' basketball team, tossing the big brown balls as they marched. Next in line were the boys of the track team in the undress of the track. A group of fat boys supposed to be fainting from heat and fatigue, followed, carrying the banner: "It's a Long Way to Brookside." Other banners, all of which were created by the children, read: "We need lots of room to swim;" "This is no fun, we want a pool;" "It's up to you, Mr. Voter;" "Vote for a pool here;" "Where do we swim?" "Say, dad, vote yes;" "Help us swim;" "We sure like to swim;" "Let us swim in Glendale;" "Yes, we want parks."

When it was time for the yell program the boys got bashful. All the masculine yell leaders were suddenly too timid to face their fellow students and lead them through the lung testing program, but a girl, Eula Linkogel, arose to the emergency, though as modest as the best, and mounted on a park seat, led the boys and girls in rousing yells, such as:

"One, two, three, four,

What are we for?

Swimming pool!"

It will certainly be too bad if these fine boys and girls are to be disappointed in their desire for a park and swimming pool and are going to be forced to go to Brookside or the river for all aquatic sports.

C. E. CONVENTION COMMITTEE PLANS

A big and important meeting of the Christian Endeavor convention committee was held at the Christian church, Sunday afternoon, over which Howard Brown, as chairman, presided. Many pastors of the city were there and showed surprise at the degree of enthusiasm displayed. Rev. Calderwood said he had not realized that Christian Endeavor enthusiasm could grow to such proportions, but he had discovered that everything grows big in California.

Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts was made chairman of music and will be responsible for getting the convention chorus together and training it.

Harry Marple will have charge of Lost and Found, Information, and Postoffice for delegates.

Paul Brown, state field secretary, and Harry Allen, from San Francisco, another state field secretary, brought greetings from other societies, and said we had enthusiasm enough here to spread over the entire state.

Mr. Valentine, state president, was also present and announced there were 11 more county conventions before the state convention and at all these Glendale would be boosted by posters and talks.

MODERN WOODMEN TO ORGANIZE IN GLENDALE

District Deputy A. P. Martin of the Modern Woodmen of America will be in Glendale for the next ten days to secure charter members for the organization of a camp of the society in Glendale. Modern Woodmen of America is the largest fraternal benefit society in existence, its membership long since having passed the million mark and the number of camps throughout its jurisdiction number approximately 15,000.

The society maintains and operates a sanitarium where its members may be cured of tuberculosis absolutely free of charge, board and lodging in addition to the best medical attention and the most scientific treatment known, being included without cost to the patient.

Since 1883 this society has grown to be the largest institution of its kind in the world, its insurance benefits furnish good safe protection at less cost to its members than the usual charge for term insurance, policies are in full force for full amount from date of delivery, and provision is made for old age benefits.

Attorney Henry Molz, who has been active in the society for upwards of 15 years, is cooperating with Deputy Martin in organizing a local camp, and will be pleased to interview prospective members evenings at his residence, 363 West Lexington drive.

PRETTY WEDDING EASTER MORNING

A pretty home wedding was celebrated at 9 o'clock Easter morning at the home of the bride's uncle, C. Yeoman, 113 North Orange street, when Mrs. L. F. Mitchell and W. H. Crumpler, of Oklahoma, were united in marriage by Rev. E. E. Ford, pastor of the Baptist church.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion with palms, Easter lilies and garlands of bridal wreath, and the wedding ceremony took place beneath a lovely floral arch.

The bride was charming in a gown of pink tulle, she carried a shower bouquet of pink sweet peas which harmonized perfectly with her costume. The only attendants were her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Yeoman.

Only the immediate relatives of the bride and groom were present at the ceremony, at the conclusion of which the whole party attended the Easter services at the First Baptist church. A dinner was served the wedding party after the services at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Crumpler, 353 West Elk.

The wedding is the happy culmination of a romance begun back in Oklahoma, where Mrs. Mitchell and her three fatherless children were friends of Mr. Crumpler and his three motherless children. The two families of children, who were formerly playmates in the old home, have now become sisters and brothers, and as Mr. Crumpler has decided to remain here permanently, Glendale has added another new family to its growing list of new residents.

SKY PILOTS TO BE GUESTS OF HONOR

The aviation luncheon which Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Brand are to give in the private clubhouse of their foothill estate promises to be one of tremendous interest and suspense. Invitations have been sent to all the aero clubs of this coast and to all the aviation fields and all flyers and their ladies will be welcomed. Against those who come not in an airship the gates will be shut.

The luncheon takes place Friday at high noon and the aviation branch of the army and navy will be well represented. Sky pilots will be there in plenty but they will not be the sort made famous by Ralph Connor. Mr. Brand is an aviation enthusiast and owns a fine machine in which he makes frequent trips to his estate in the Sierras.

THE CLOUDSTER IS A GIANT PLANE

(By International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, March 29.—Aeronautical engineers are much interested in the Cloudster, a giant airplane which has been completed here and which is undergoing tests with the intention of attempting a non-stop flight from Los Angeles to New York within the next few months.

The plane was designed by Donald W. Douglas, an aeronautical engineer, for David R. Davis, a Los Angeles sportsman. It measures 56 feet from tip to tip, stands 13 feet high and has a total length of 35 feet. It is said to be the largest single engine machine in America. The engine is a 12-cylinder, 400-horsepower Liberty type, calculated to drive the plane at a speed of 110 miles an hour. On the transcontinental flight 660 gallons of fuel will be carried.

According to Mr. Douglas, the machine, which was built here by the Davis-Douglas Company, does not owe its efficiency to freak ideas, but refinements of standard design and construction. The preliminary flights are stated to have been successful in every way.

On the transcontinental voyage the plane will be piloted by Mr. Davis and Eric Springer, a well-known aviator.

VILLAGE "VAMP" LANDS POSTMASTER

(By International News Service)
DETROIT, March 29.—"The Village Vamp," a $12,000 production.

John Middleitch, postmaster of Lunn, Mich., took the leading role in such a play and as a result received a three-year sentence at Fort Leavenworth in which to reflect.

John, according to the testimony, served 12 years as postmaster of Lunn. The village is one of those quaint, picturesque country towns, situated at a crossroad in Lapeer county, of the sort where everybody obtains drinking water from the town pump in front of the general store.

John was a respectable citizen, stood high in the community and then it happened.

He fell for the village vamp of a neighboring village. Into her clutches crept the postmaster, his testimony revealed. Her heart's desire was an automobile, a phonograph and new furniture. Unable to resist her languorous eyes and itching palm, the helpless postmaster fell, the testimony showed, and making out money orders to himself, cashed them, using the money to purchase the objects of her desire.

Postal auditors discovered Middleitch's shortage and haled him before the court, Judge Tuttle sentenced him to three years in Fort Leavenworth.

"BAD MEN" ARE SHOOTING UP TOWN

(By International News Service)
MUSKOGEE, Okla., March 29.—"Bad men" are still shooting up towns in Oklahoma. But styles have changed.

Frank Swift, a modern "Oklahoma bad man," is under a three-month sentence in the state penitentiary for shooting up Broadway, the main street in Muskogee.

Swift rode down the thoroughfare at breakneck speed, firing dozens of shots. Although a score of buildings were struck by the spraying bullets, no person was shot. His raid had all the earmarks of the wild and woolly frontier days except—he rode on a Ford truck instead of the usual bucking broncho.

WORE 12 DOZEN PAIRS OF STOCKINGS

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 29.—"Dock thieving is increasing enormously in London," said Captain Noakes, superintendent of discharge for the New Zealand and Federal shipping companies.

"In one case a dock worker who was stopped at the dock gates when about to go off duty was discovered to be wearing 12 dozen pairs of silk stockings, valued at $600.

"The stockings were around his body and limbs so skillfully and uniformly as almost to escape detection."

"Talking about 'dry' towns, have you ever been in Leavenworth, Kansas?" asked the commercial traveler in the smoking car. "No?" Well, that's a 'dry' town for you, all right. "They can't sell liquor at all there," asked one of the men. "Only if you have been bitten by a snake," said the traveler. "They have only one snake in the town, and when I got to it the other day, after standing in line for nearly half the day, it was too tired to bite."—Evening Wisconsin.

AN EFFORT, FRUITFUL OF MUCH GOOD

The vision and energy of one woman initiated community opera and community drama in Salida, Colorado, a town of 4,000 people, representing practically every nationality under the sun. The strange-sounding jargon of mingled tongues fills the air there daily in the streets, thronged with Mexicans, Spaniards, Frenchmen, Bohemians, Syrians and many other peoples, as the men go to and from their work in the big smelting works. Ten years ago these men had nothing to do with their leisure time but fritter it away, idly and aimlessly, while their wives spent their free moments sitting on their doorsteps chatting and gossiping.

When Mrs. Frank M. Cochems was transplanted from Chicago to Salida, where her physician husband operated a private hospital, she felt keenly the barren sordidness of her surroundings and the lack of opportunities to enjoy good music or drama. Instead of bewailing the loss of the advantages that had heretofore always been hers, she set about finding a way to supply them, not only for herself but also for the rest of the inhabitants of Salida. As a result of her efforts, Salida is today putting on grand opera and the finest plays in the English language, painting their own scenery, making their own costumes, acting the parts themselves—and in the process, besides having a very good time, they are learning things of incalculable value. Tolerance, understanding of the other fellow's viewpoint, sympathy, a just appreciation of their own powers, a sense of the value of co-operation—these are a few of the by-products of the success of this community effort made by one woman who refused to whine when deprived by circumstances of advantages that had enriched her life.

The list of plays that have been produced by this community includes Chanticleer, Galilea and Chitra, As You Like It, Lady Windermere's Fan and The Blue Bird, and some of the operas in their repertoire are Monna Vanna, Samson and Delilah, Elijah, Romeo and Juliet, and Faust.

Musicians, dramatists and social workers who have witnessed a "show" put on by Salida people declare this kind of united effort is the biggest factor in community work with people of different nationalities that they have ever seen. At one time or another during the year, practically every citizen of Salida takes some part, big or little, in one of the productions; the actors range from little children to people in their seventies. The program committee labors all summer long preparing the year's program and every season the women's clubs present a study of the plays and dramas to be given.

Of course, such a thoroughly organized community effort is not the work of a day—or even of a year, or two years. It has taken ten years of hard work to build it up; hard work by Mrs. Cochems, hard work by the women's clubs and program committees, and hard work by all the actors, most of whom had had no previous training in music or dramatic art and whose knowledge of plays was limited to those brought to Salida by traveling stock companies.

If one woman of determination and culture could accomplish this tremendous thing in Salida, a town of mixed foreign population, what might not the Tuesday Afternoon Club and the Glendale Music Club and other kindred organizations do for Glendale—if we get the civic centre?

PERUSAL OF DIVORCE CASES

"The Woman Pays," according to the tear-soaked dramas and novels which tell us that "she pays and pays and pays." But does she? Apparently "the woman" in many of the stories in real life, which we read in the columns of our dailies, gets off scot free, and never "pays."

Perusal of divorce cases in which innocent children are involved cannot but impress upon any thinking person that it is more often the children "who pay."

True, the parents who are divorced have their share of suffering, the breaking up of their family life and old memories. But in cases where married life has been a repetition of wranglings and unpleasantness generally freedom is a blessing to them. They feel relieved as from a fearful burden.

At least these guilty ones may say to themselves that they have had the pleasure of their attachments, and that their suffering has not been without its compensation.

But there is none of this for the children, innocent bystanders who are hit when the marital collision occurs.

In divorce decisions the custody of little children frequently is awarded to one or the other parent. These little ones, too young to reason why, must accept their fate without questioning the decree that shuts them off from the daily companionship of a beloved father or mother in whom they could see no wrong.

It is hard to understand why father can be seen only at intervals; why mother goes into her room when he calls, shuts the door and will not come out to greet the pleasant man who has brought them presents and embraces.

What has father done? Mother shakes her head; won't tell them. The queer shadow that hangs over childhood grows into a storm cloud. Later, in school days, other children, more precocious perhaps, having picked up gossip from their parents concerning the neighboring "divorced woman," may enlighten their little schoolmates as to the truth.

Consider the pitiful plight of a lovely girl, daughter of a couple fighting each other in a divorce case, the scandalous details of which are spread over pages and pages of newspaper.

Imagine the situation of such a girl if she is a student at a fashionable boarding school, every member of which is familiar with the unpleasant accusations concerning her mother. Gossip hisses its wriggly tongue all about her. Every time any other girl mentions going home to mother and "dad" she feels a sharp pang to think that her home is different from those of the other girls.

Friends will be loyal. If they are really friends. But even in a girls' school, where students pair off and become devoted chums, there will be, for each girl, a large number who are neither friends nor foes, but pleasantly impartial acquaintances. What will they think?

What shall a girl say of the father who makes her mother's good name a mockery? Of the man who, while supposedly a true and loving husband to her mother, has been secretly maintaining another woman in luxury?

What can she think of a man who wants to deny his tiny son, her baby brother, his right to inherit wealth, while he shows foolish extravagances on a woman who might not love him but for his money?

And when baby talk falls from baby lips, it is seeking no other reward than a father's smile. Can any one say as much for the baby talk that falls from the "other woman's" lips?

Worldly wisdom in a normal life comes slowly to meet people. Cynicism comes only to those in some way embittered by cruel experience.

Beginning life, every one of us needs a faith in something we believe to be impeccable. Most children believe their parents represent as nearly as possible earthly perfection.

But parents and their precepts lose force when flaws are discovered. Some sage has said that children begin by worshipping their parents and end by sitting in judgment upon them.

Every child has a right to start life without stigma on his name, with a certainty that whatever of evil befalls him in life will, for the most part, be of his own making, and that by his own uprightness he can divert nearly all evil from himself.

No parent has, through divorce or in any other way, the right to secure his or her own happiness and freedom at such a frightful loss to the innocent children who bear their name.

WANT VILLA TO JOIN NEW REVOLT

(By International News Service)

MEXICO CITY, March 29.—An attempt to enlist Francisco Villa, the former bandit, in the Carranzista revolutionary cabal against the Obregon government has failed, according to the newspaper Las Noticias today.

This newspaper stated that a delegation of former Carranzista army officers, headed by Candido Aguilar, son-in-law of the late president, called upon Villa at the latter's ranch near Canutillo several days ago and asked the former bandit to join General Murguia in a revolt in an effort to overturn the present administration.

Villa was said to have listened to the overtures and then replied:

"When I was fighting alone no one helped me. When I had not a single cartridge Murguia pursued me with federal troops. I have decided to remain at peace permanently and Aguilar nor anyone else can shake me in this decision."

It was reported that the Carranzista junta had promised to make Villa chief of military operations in Chihuahua, Lower California, Sinaloa, Guadaluajara, Coahuila and Durango.

It was recently reported that Villa was seriously ill of pneumonia but evidently this report was either wholly untrue or exaggerated.

Eugene Debs now hopes to regain his freedom through the promise of President Harding to review his case through the new attorney-general. What's the hurry! Eugene doesn't have to run for President for three years yet and he can do that just as well from a prison cell as if he were at large.

TRYING TO IDENTIFY BODY OF MAN

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO, March 29.—Attempts are being made today to identify the body of a man which was found beneath an elevated sidewalk in West North-avenue and to find a woman who was seen leaving the spot a short time before the body was found.

The body of the man was concealed in a rude cave under the sidewalk. Beside it when the police arrived was a woman's muff. In his hand the dead man clutched a string of rosary beads and in his pocket was found a piece of paper bearing the address "Mrs. Schultz, 1542 Carroll Place."

A watchman saw the woman go under the sidewalk and scrape away earth and cinders from the mouth of the shallow cave. He summoned the police, but when they arrived the woman had disappeared.

A new font will be put in No. 118 also.

CARDINAL LIES IN STATE

BALTIMORE, Md., March 29.—Seemingly endless line of worshippers moved to the cathedral today to pay last homage to James Cardinal Gibbons, whose body lies in state upon a specially constructed catafalque. The dead prelate is clothed in full Episcopal robes, with the mitre on the head and the Episcopal ring on his finger.

Another thing to worry about: Only three known persons are living today who saw Andrew Jackson.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT OF CLAIMS

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Acknowledgment of American claims totalling more than $350,000,000 is likely to be insisted upon by the United States as one of the conditions to be complied with before there can be any trade again with soviet Russia, it was learned today.

Of this amount $187,729,750 was advanced by the United States government to Kerensky as head of the provisional Russian government while the remainder represents Russian loans floated in this country by private banking corporations on unpaid interest.

SUNDAY'S AUTO ACCIDENT TOLL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Six dead, including one woman and a baby and 30 persons injured was the eastern Sunday toll of automobile accidents in the bay region. The condition of several of the injured is serious.

The initials C. T. on freight cars means "Columbia Trust," and were placed on all cars built under the United States railroad administration.

PRISONER TAKES FRENCH LEAVE

(By International News Service)
JACKSON, Mich., March 29.—The life of a prison warden is not all one of gloom and chasing runaway convicts, according to Warden Harry L. Hurlburt, of the Michigan state prison. In fact there are a good many laughs to be had behind the grim stone walls, he declared.

The warden told one amusing incident with J. C. Lauzon, who was sentenced from Detroit for a gem robbery, as the principal actor.

"He was wanted in Joliet and Sing Sing and had the reputation of going over any wall," said the warden. "He told me we had a nice bunch here at Jackson and he would stay. I put him in the chair shop and later in the deputy's office and he did well. I took him with others to the county farm last fall to see the horse races."

"Two weeks later I had to speak at a prison convention in Columbus and I prepared a speech on how Lauzon had reformed. The night I left he saved off a bar and got out. They wanted to wire me, but my wife said because then I wouldn't have any speech. Soon afterward I received a letter from Lauzon in which he explained, 'I fell out of that damned window and I am in Cleveland.'"

"Every two weeks since I have got a letter from him and he sends his picture cards of different cities. He registers at hotels under his own name, but we can't locate him. He even sent my wife some costly earrings for a Christmas present and sent me a cigar holder he had stolen from somebody. We have received this stolen property, but cannot return it, as we don't know where he got it. Two weeks ago he wrote me: 'Funds low and I may have to go to my home in Detroit, wire for you to come and get me.'"

"At any rate, I'll land him some day, sooner or later."

BRIDE AT 13 AND DIVORCED AT 17

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—A bride at 13 and a divorcee at 17 looms as the matrimonial record of Mrs. Ruby Dale.

The girl, who four years ago was Missouri's youngest bride, found the matrimonial pathway "full of thorns," even though she was wedded with her parents' consent.

She charges her husband, John Dale, 13 years her senior, with gross neglect of duty. She also charged him with cruelty. The "cruelty" she charges, consisted of his forcing her to work at a packing house while he loafed.

Despite his "gross neglect," she charges Dale accompanied her to and from work because of his jealous disposition. The case will be decided the coming session of divorce court.

RESTORES A HAND SHATTERED BY BULLET

(By International News Service)
FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., March 29.—The violin of Robert Inandt, private in the French army, no longer is silent. In three weeks' army specialists here did what the best French physicians had said was impossible.

Inandt was a violin virtuoso avant a guerre. A shot tore through the palm of his right hand. It severed the nerves and tendons of three fingers. They were paralyzed—hopelessly so, the French army surgeons said.

Inandt refused to abandon his violin without a struggle. Hearing of the work of the American army specialists, he came to Fort Sheridan. Now he is returning home after a stay of less than a month—able to use three fingers on his "violin hand."

WIFE OF ARTIST WHO POSED AS MADONNA

(By International News Service)
CHICAGO, March 29.—The Madonna in Claude Buck's painting, "The Christ Child," which caused considerable controversy in church circles here because of the undraped condition of the mother's limbs, now is a madonna in real life. The twins, Bobby and Julie, born to her are reported "doing fine."

Mr. Buck's inspiration for his picture was his wife, Mrs. Estril Buck Terkelsen, formerly a contralto of note here. He painted her with an infant in her arms and her limbs exposed to the knees.

"I hope some of the people who thought I was uncouth and immoral to paint the madonna as I painted her will learn that that madonna is now the mother of twins," said Mr. Buck recently. "Maybe it will change their views a little."

WHY BUTTONS ARE ON MEN'S COAT SLEEVES

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Kan., March 29.—Why the buttons on men's coat sleeves? A tailor her explains it this way.

"Buttons on coat sleeves are strangely linked with the improvement in man's personal hygiene. Years ago as you'll remember, men trotted around all dolled up in silk pants and fluffy waists that would make women's styles of this day and age look mossbacked."

"On each man's sleeve was a long lace cuff that flopped about in much the same fashion as the flapper's unbuckled galoshes do now on a rainy day. Obviously such cuffs often interfered with the courtier's salaams, and so some court tailors had the happy idea of putting buttons on the sleeves to button the cuffs back when said beau brummel 'took off his coat' so to speak."

"Another version is that the soldiers of a certain old king in England were furnished with new uniforms with beautiful lace cuffs and were the pride of their monarch's heart until one sad day he caught a sentry using the cuff as a handkerchief. He immediately issued orders to have metal buttons put on the cuffs so that forgetful warriors would scratch their noses if they attempted such a maneuver."

"In time the lace cuffs went out of style, but they forgot to take the buttons off and so they remain today as useless as the popular notion of uselessness of the vermiform appendix."

"MODEL" COUPLE HAVE SEPARATED

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—Cupid has failed with the Sutermeisters.

Herman Sutermeister, the "perfect husband," and Mrs. Letah Sutermeister, the "model wife," have separated permanently following a financial settlement after all of Cupid's wiles failed to win them matrimonial bliss, according to announcement made here by attorneys.

The Sutermeisters, who attracted attention in May, 1916, by their "articles of specifications of matrimonial felicitation," tried for six years to find happiness, but failed, according to the attorneys.

The "articles" provided that Sutermeister would not "smoke, drink, swear or chew." He was allowed, under the agreement, to say "Oh, Gracious," once in a while if properly perturbed.

He also promised not to "carry mud into the house." He was not to look at his wife for more than 30 minutes at a time unless she gave him special permission.

The "model wife" promised to give her husband one smile for every 10 she bestowed upon humanity. The "articles of specifications" did not work. Property owned by Sutermeister and valued at $100,000 is involved in settlement of the suit.

HOUND FOLLOWS LONG TRAIL TO GET HOME

(By International News Service)
PUEBLO, Col., March 29.—"Benny," a beagle hound, has reached Pueblo after a trip on foot alone of 225 miles, from Wichita, Kansas.

He appeared on the front porch of a house in which Mrs. E. C. Henderson, of Wichita, is residing, five days after Mrs. Henderson had left him at her home in Wichita.

Mrs. Henderson drove to Pueblo from the Kansas town in an automobile, and the dog, apparently lonesome, followed the trail on foot.

HAD "COLD FEET," WAS NOT ILL

(By International News Service)
PORTLAND, Ore., March 29.—Jimmy (Shadow) Duffy of Oakland, has been barred from the ring for one year by the Milwaukee Boxing commission here, according to an announcement made today by Matchmaker Frank Kendall.

Duffy failed to meet Dave Shade in a scheduled 10-round go arranged by the Milwaukee commission for last Wednesday. Kendall claims Duffy had "cold feet" and wasn't ill, as the boxer contended.

TRUCKLOAD OF LINEN BREAKS FALL OF MAN

(By International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, March 29.—Griffith Humphrey, 38, linen steward at the Argonaut hotel, filled his truck with linen on the seventh floor of the hotel today and shoved the truck into the elevator shaft. The elevator was at the bottom and the truck load of linen plunged down Humphrey following it closely. He was rushed to the Central Emergency hospital after his seven-floor fall and found to be suffering only slight bruises.

MISTAKE CAUSES PANIC IN HOTEL

(By International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., March 29.—A near panic here is attributed to a telegraph operator at Wellington.

A patron of a local hotel received the following telegram:

"Will burn — hotel in Columbus tonight. BOCCO."

The telegram referred to the hotel where the patron was quartered.

Some guests changed hotels hurriedly, but officials of the ill-fated hotel presented a calm demeanor as they tried to unravel the mystery.

Despite extended inquiry at Wellington and activity on the part of the Columbus police, the sender of the telegram eluded the officials.

It was late that night when he arrived at the — hotel.

Bocco immediately located his friend, asking him whether the patron had received Bocco's telegram.

Admitting he had, he asked Bocco for an explanation.

"Why," declared Bocco, "I wired: 'Will be at — hotel in Columbus tonight.'"

MAN NO LONGER MASTER OF HOME

(By International News Service)
LONDON, March 29.—"I have invariably found that where a man knocks his wife about it is the wife's fault," said Mr. Symmons, the Clerkewell magistrate, during the hearing of a case where a woman had charged her husband with assault.

A man, commented Mr. Symmons, is no longer master in his own home. A woman promised to "love, honor and obey," but obedience could not be enforced.

"Under the good old law," he said, "a man could thrash his wife so long as the stick were no thicker than his thumb. But now the law was weakened, and we had instead those miserable maintenance orders and there was no domestic happiness."

PASTOR SAYS GOOD BOOK UPHOLDS BOXING

(By International News Service)
TOPEKA, Kan., March 29.—The Bible upholds boxing, according to the Rev. Earl A. Blackman, known as the "fighting Kansas parson."

During a hearing on a boxing bill for Kansas before the state legislature the Rev. Blackman upheld the movement launched by the American Legion.

"You say you're a minister of the gospel?" queried a legislator, interrupting the "parson's" talk. "Where do you get the text for the remarks you're making in favor of boxing?"

"The words of Saint Paul taken from First Corinthians, 9:26: 'I am a boxer and I hit hard and fast,'" was the reply like a shot.

The legislator subsided.

PORK CHOP SPREE BY HER HUSBAND

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—A four-day honeymoon featured by a pork chop spree by her husband and his subsequent disappearance won Mrs. Carrie Swazey a warrant charging William Swazey with desertion.

The bride testified her husband ordered pork chops for the first meal when they went to housekeeping in her mother's home. "He ordered pork chops for his breakfast, dinner and supper on the second and the same on the third and fourth days. He ate nothing but pork chops. Then he disappeared," said the deserted bride.

The "A. W. O. L." husband is also charged with non-support.

NOT STRONG ENOUGH TO HOLD WOMEN

(By International News Service)
KANSAS CITY, Mo., March 29.—The women of Kansas City are so "wild" they're going to build the jails stronger, according to W. H. Taylor, superintendent of the welfare board.

The superintendent said steps would be taken to build the cells stronger at the women's reformatory after 13 women escaped by filing their way to freedom.

The women, all confined in the "honor ward," were captured later. Taylor said the cells weren't strong enough to hold them.

Pending new and stronger cells, Taylor is seeking to have all women prisoners sent to the county jail.

PARADISE FOR THE INDOLENT

Stress of Modern Life Unknown
Among the Inhabitants of the Marquesas Islands.

Persons possessing $1,000 who like the indolent life of the tropics where winter is unknown can spend the remainder of their lives in the Marquesas islands in the Pacific ocean, where they need only work two hours a day to catch fish and pick bananas and spend the remainder of the day watching the skyline sea wash lazily over the golden sands.

The money would be required to pay a second-class passage from one of the Pacific coast ports, with outfit, and the balance to purchase fertile land at $2 an acre.

The Marquesas are situated in 8 to 11 south latitude and 140 west longitude and are of volcanic origin and mountainous. They are under the French republic and the commissioner lives at Tahiti, the chief town, which is on the island of Nukawa. There were 4,300 inhabitants in the islands when the census was taken in 1900, but the natives, who are Christians, have dwindled away since then. There are 3,800 square miles in the thirteen islands, which compose the Marquesas group. The chief products are tropical fruit, copra and mother of pearl. The landing is difficult, as the shore goes up like a wall from the sea.

Passengers arriving from the Pacific say that the climate of the Marquesas is ideal and that life there is one long day dream, with no disturbing element beyond the silver-tongued notes of the bulbul at sunset from its lofty perch on the ancient baobabs by the seashore.—New York Times

RELIC OF MEDIEVAL TIMES

Sacred City of Mongolia Has But a Thin Veneer of the Civilization of Today.

Urga, sacred city of the Living Buddha, lying far to the north of Mongolia, is a relic of medieval times overlaid with a veneer of twentieth century civilization, and is a city of violent contrasts and glaring anachronisms. It was used as a base of supplies by Roy Chapman Andrews, leader of the second Asiatic zoological expedition of the American Museum of Natural History.

Motor cars pass camel caravans fresh from the Gobi desert; holy lamas in bright robes walk side by side with black-robed priests and swarthy Mongol women in the fantastic head-dresses of their race stare wonderingly at the latest fashions of their Russian sisters, relates a correspondent of the Detroit News. Three great races have met in Urga, and each carries on its own customs and way of life. The Mongol's felt-covered home has remained unchanged; the Chinese shop with its wooden counter and blue-gowned inmates is still pure Chinese, and the ornate cottages proclaim themselves to be Russian.

Men from all races and corners of the earth gamble together. All Mongolia lives on horseback, and a Mongol will never walk even a hundred yards if he can help it. Summer in Mongolia is short at best, and in the winter the temperature drops to 50 and 60 degrees below zero, and the great plateau is swept by biting winds from the Siberian steppes.

Leaders Must Pay Price.

There's satisfaction in being able to do hard things. Weaklings have to be exceptionally insignificant if they can't do something. Then there is a large class that can do many things indifferently. Those who can carry big loads and carry them well are few. To be in this select class appeals to most folks, but only the few really deserve place in it. And they do not land there without effort. Such honors are matters of growth. Time and toil are the price paid for the advance. Beginning with what comes easy the worthy ones become experts and then add to their sphere of achieving such things as naturally fall in line with their endeavors. Then they grow without being really conscious of added strength. That comes as a glad surprise when some one calls attention to it.

Asparagus Has a Pedigree.

Asparagus was cultivated in Rome 200 years B. C., and Pliny, in his "History of Naturalists," mentions that near Ravenna there grew a kind of which three heads weighed a pound. Asparagus flourished also in Greece. It is a native of several places near the sea in Britain. At Kynance cove, in Cornwall, a rocky island is called "Asparagus island," because at one time the plant was cultivated there. In ancient days all sprouts of young vegetables were called asparagus; and in comparatively modern times the artichoke, cardoon, sea-kale and allsander were included. Nowadays only the one is so called. Most probably all are wild sea-coast plants, and cultivated asparagus of an unpalatable order may still be found on British shores.

Korean Women Nameless.

The Korean woman has not even a name. In childhood she receives a nickname, by which she is known in the family and by her friends, but when she arrives at maturity, it is employed only by "the sister of" or "the daughter of" such a person.

After her marriage her name is buried; she is absolutely nameless. If it happens that a woman has to appear in a law court the judge gives her a special name for use while the case lasts, in order to save time and to simplify matters.

REV. J. S. O'NEILL'S EASTER SERMON

In a sermon recently at the Church of the Holy Family, the pastor, Rev. J. S. O'Neill, deplored the propaganda of misunderstanding if not deliberate misrepresentation that causes discord and a lack of confidence and trust between Catholic and non-Catholic citizens of our country. He read in this connection an article from the bulletin of the Los Angeles Consistory, the official publication of the bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in the Valley of Los Angeles. The article follows:

A SPURIOUS OATH

(Copied from Bulletin Los Angeles Consistory—official publication of the bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry in the Valley of Los Angeles—issue of October, 1914.)

For some time there has been circulated in Southern California, and, we understand, also throughout the United States, what purports to be the oath taken by members of the Knights of Columbus, a Catholic fraternal society. This alleged oath was published in the Congressional Record in February, 1913, and in a local Masonic paper a few weeks ago, and has been handed around in booklets and leaflets. This oath is of the most diabolic and fiendish character. Any one who would take such an oath would be a monster of iniquity and a dangerous and desperate man. Undoubtedly many persons who have lent themselves to the circulation of this infamy did so in the utmost good faith because their credulity led them to believe or suspect the oath to be true, and their just indignation at, and abhorrence of such pledges and promises, made them eager to acquaint the world with what they believed to be a despicable band of villains and outlaws.

That those Masons who were misled into accepting this alleged oath as genuine might know the truth, and that we all might be advised of the libelous calumny that was being visited upon many of our fellow American citizens, overtures were made to the proper authorities of the Knights of Columbus, with a view of ascertaining the whole truth about the matter, and then making it known to our brethren. A full and free opportunity was offered the committee to make an exhaustive examination of all the ceremonials and obligations of the Order of Knights of Columbus, and the result is embodied in the following report:

"We hereby certify that by authority from the highest officer of the Knights of Columbus in the State of California, who acted under instructions from the supreme officer of the order in the United States, we were furnished a complete copy of all the work, ceremonies and pledges used by the order, and that we carefully read, discussed and examined the same. We found that while the order is in a sense a secret association, it is not an oath-bound organization, and that its ceremonies are comprised in four degrees, which are intended to teach and inculcate principles that lie at the foundation of every great religion and every free state. Our examination of these ceremonials and obligations was made primarily for the purpose of ascertaining whether or not a certain alleged oath of the Knights of Columbus, which had been printed and widely distributed, was, in fact, used by the order, and whether, if it was not used, any oath, obligation or pledge was used which was or would be offensive to Protestants or Masons, or those who are engaged in circulating a document of peculiar viciousness and wickedness. We find that neither the alleged oath nor any oath or pledge bearing the remotest resemblance thereto in matter, manner, spirit or purpose is used or forms a part of the ceremonials of any degree of the Knights of Columbus. The alleged oath is scurrilous, wicked and libelous, and must be the invention of an impious and venomous mind. We find that the Order of Knights of Columbus, as shown by its rituals, is dedicated to the Catholic religion, charity and patriotism. There is no propaganda proposed or taught against Protestants or Masons or persons not of the Catholic faith. Indeed, Protestants are not referred to directly or indirectly in the ceremonials and pledges. The ceremonial of the order teaches a high and noble patriotism, instills a love of country, inculcates a reverence for law and order, urges the conscientious and unselfish performance of civic duty, and holds up the constitution of our country as the richest and most precious possession of a knight of the order. We can find nothing in the entire ceremonials of the order that to our minds could be objected to by any person."

EASTER SERMON BY REV. C. M. CRIST

At the First Methodist church 44 persons were received into church membership Sunday, and 11 baptisms took place. The church was packed to its capacity. The Easter music was of a very high character. The pastor preached his Easter sermon from the text, "But now is Christ risen from the dead and become the first fruits of them that slept" (I Cor. 15:20). Dr. Crist said in part: "For centuries the unsolved problem of explorers was the source of the river Nile; that river that finds Egypt a desert and leaves it blossoming as a garden. Only in the last century was this source found to be in lake Victoria Nyanza, far back from the coast and thousands of feet above the sea. There is a far mightier stream which, with its continuous and rapid flow, has changed the griefs and sorrows of earth's millions into joy and glory unspeakable. This is the river of Salvation that flows from the skies and causes the thirsty earth to blossom as the rose.

"Man, conscientious of his need and also cognizant of its adequate supply, has been asking, 'Whence cometh this mighty, refreshing and rejuvenating stream?' A thousand lips gladly respond from a thousand glad hearts: 'Its source is in the heart of the loving Father, and Jesus Christ has brought it down to the plane of our humanity.'

"As we study the plan of salvation," said Dr. Crist, "we find that while the life and teachings of Jesus are of tremendous import, it was not by these that the world was saved, but rather by the death of our Lord. Without the shedding of blood there is no remission of sins. But hear me! His death was efficacious and only because he was raised again from the dead. The fact is, that of all the observances of the church, the most significant is that of Easter day. If Christ be not risen, your faith is vain, ye are yet in your sins. The two greatest days of the world's history are Friday, April 7, A.D. 30, the day of the crucifixion, and the following Sunday, when the white-robed angel said: 'He is not here; he is risen.'

JUNIOR CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR PARTY

The Junior Christian Endeavorers of the Glendale Presbyterian church met in the bungalow Monday evening at 7 o'clock and enjoyed a real Junior party. Miss Josephine Rettberg, superintendent, assisted by Miss Elizabeth Edmonds were responsible for the good time which the Juniors claim is the best they have ever had. The evening was spent in games, many of which were original and instructive and especially one on the Books of the Old Testament in which Elizabeth Simpson and Esther Edmonds were the winners, demonstrating the fact that they have not forgotten the lessons learned in the meetings on Sunday. After games the report of the nominating committee was read and the following officers elected: President, John Heideman; vice president, Elizabeth Simpson; secretary, Marie Rapp; treasurer, Elmer Patterson; quiet hour, Esther Edmonds; pocket Testament, John Elliott; prayer meeting, James Edmonds; lookout, Howard Fallis; missionary, Howard Rettberg; sunshiner, Ruth Jones; social, Ruth Edmonds. Refreshments of chocolate and cookies were served and the party closed with song and prayer. The Juniors present were: Esther Edmonds, Ruth Edmonds, Barbara King, Elizabeth Simpson, Ruth Jones, Helen Gaskin, Helen Gikerson, Marie Rapp, Pearl Dean, John Heideman, James Edmonds, Howard Fallis, John Elliott, Elmer Patterson, Robert Boyd, Howard Rettberg, Howard Van Loon, Dana Van Loon, Wilbur Lemon, Noel Dean, Joseph Hall, Fred Fallis, Paul McAllister, and four guests of honor, the Misses Mary McDill, Marjorie Smith, Stella Bellue and F. W. Hoffman.

Y. L. I. HOSTESSES AT DANCING PARTY

Celebrating the passing of the penitential season of Lent, the young ladies of the Y. L. I. were hostesses last evening at an Easter Monday dancing party at the American Legion hall on East Broadway.

Henning's orchestra furnished the music for the 75 couples who enjoyed the evening. Favors were in the Easter motif and punch was served all during the evening by a bevy of young ladies in pretty Easter gowns.

THE BLACK BABE RUTH

The colored team here has a player who swings a wicked willow and is called the Black Babe Ruth.

This guy is as big as a house, and when he belts that old apple it goes by the infield whistling. When the meerschaum-colored Ruth steps up to the platter the coaches yell:

"Here he is, boy—tie on yu' gloves; here he is!"

He never disappoints his admirers. He nails the ball over his head or scoops it up like a golfer, and when he swats it the midnight blondes in the field usually hunt for cover. He sho is a pow'ful pusson.

ELKS LUNCH AT LONG BEACH

Glendale Elks to the number of 175, headed by their officers, journeyed to Long Beach last evening in a special four-car Pacific Electric train, where they were the guests of the Long Beach lodge, the occasion being the initiation of 13 candidates.

The initiatory work was conferred by the Glendale lodge, who took with them their drill team and the orchestra, to participate in this work.

The entertainment program planned by the Long Beach lodge for their guests was most enjoyable and an elegant and substantial luncheon was served in the dining room of the club house late in the evening.

GERMAN LOTTERY SCHEME IS REVEALED

(By International News Service)

MANCHESTER, N. H., March 29.—

The city of Manchester has been flooded with German lottery appeals coming from Ernest Schultz, Berlin, Germany. The communications have been sent to all sorts of people, including ministers and lawyers, as well as workers in the mills and shops. No attempts are made to disguise the fact that it is a lottery, the capital prize being named and directions given for forwarding money. The matter has been reported to the postal authorities by Postmaster Willis. No orders have been as yet received in regard to the lottery mail at the local postoffice.

With diphtheria the symptoms usually appear within two days.

STORY HOUR IS VERY INTERESTING

The story hour at 3 o'clock Easter Saturday, at the public library, was one of unusual interest.

The juvenile room was filled to capacity with little listeners, whose intense and sustained interest was a high compliment to Miss Shattuck, as well as a tribute to her insight into child nature in the choice of the stories she had selected, "The Boy Who Discovered Spring" and "The Cat-Rabbit."

A beautiful nest of candy Easter eggs, enough for two for each child, emphasized the Easter note of the afternoon. New books released on Saturday were an added joy.

HYDRO-STONE CO.

HIGHLY INDORSED

The California Hydro-Stone Company, who are seeking a location for the manufacture of their building material in Glendale and are also seeking to interest Glendale capital in their concern, have the indorsement of the chamber of commerce, as is shown by the following letter:

Glendale, California, March 29, 1921.

To the Citizens of Glendale: We have investigated the application of the California Hydro-Stone Company for the location of their plant in Glendale, and it is our opinion that the proposition appears to be all that it is stated to be by Mr. Parks, president of the company.

Furthermore, we believe there is a market for this building product, and that the company, if properly managed, would be not only a benefit to Glendale, but would yield desired returns on an investment made in the company.

Committee on censorship, Glendale chamber of commerce. By JAMES M. RHOADES, Secretary.

That there is a market for this product is manifested by the statement of contractors in Glendale, Los Angeles and other nearby cities that they are behind in their work because the building activity is so great now that those supplying materials cannot keep pace with the demand.

An interesting description of this new and beautiful building material was given in the Glendale Daily Press in the issue of March 15. Samples of this artistic stone are on exhibition in the window at 104 East Broadway. Besides being very beautiful, this material is durable and no higher in price than enameled brick.

Glendale's fortunate location, both in the matter of needed materials and close connection with Los Angeles by rail and truck, makes this an ideal location for the parent plant, which, if located here will make Glendale the Southern California headquarters of the company, whose main headquarters in the United States are in Chicago. Subsidiary plants will probably be established at San Diego, San Bernardino, Riverside and Orange.

E. G. WARREN LOCATES HERE

The Schimmelfeng Real Estate Company has secured the services of E. G. Warren, formerly of Denver, who will have charge of all branches of real estate. Mr. Warren has been in Southern California for some months looking for a desirable location for a home and business, and has decided on Glendale. His large experience in the real estate line makes him equally desirable to the house he is now connected with and the general public.

EIGHT-CENT FARES HERE

The New Orleans street-cars soak their customers eight cents for a spin. As you enter the car you see sign up by the motorman which says: "M. F. PLEASE?" The local blokes can't figure out just what it means. So far they have figured: MORE FARES, MEN FIRST, MORE FREEDOM, MICHAEL FEENEY, MARRIED FEMALES, ETC.

TWINS CELEBRATE FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Pretty Children's Party at the Home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Horne

A children's party which departed considerably from the usual, celebrated the fourth birthday of June and Jimmie Horne. It took place Monday at the home of their parents on Valley View road and was enjoyed quite as much by the favored adults who were present as by the little tots themselves who ranged in age from four to six years.

After they had been well entertained with games and dances on the lawn, they sat down to a table at which a pink and blue color scheme had been beautifully developed with pink carnations and blue corn flowers and with favors which were emblematic of Easter. After the boys and girls had enjoyed their fill of good things to eat, they took part in a moving picture directed by Mr. Horne, father of the twins. It was the first time many of them had been before a motion picture camera and each child performed some action under the direction of Mr. Horne.

Then there were special dances on the lawn by little Patricia Peirce, Audrey Lavalle and Doris Whytock. The list of small visitors included besides little James and June Horne, who were the recipients of many beautiful gifts: Isabel Pfister, Charles David Rudel, Audrey Lavalle, Patricia Peirce, Stanton Montgomery, James and Evelyn Appfel, Mary Alice and Olive Nash, and little Doris Whytock. Other guests were: Mrs. A. P. Dobson, grandmother of the twins, Mrs. Charles Rudel, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, Mrs. William T. Wallace (aunt of the twins), Mrs. Theodore F. Peirce, Mrs. Schnabel, Mrs. Isabel Pfister, Mrs. James Appfel, Mrs. Georgie Sherman, Mrs. Willard Lewis.

Pride, envy, jealousy and covetousness are looked upon as foibles in the great but they blight character and may become the T N T which blows up states and civilizations.

To bake potatoes quickly, let them stand in boiling water for a few minutes before putting them in the oven.
